If the currency of a financial product or financial service is different from the currency of your home country, the return may increase or decrease as a result of currency fluctuations. Tax treatment depends on the individual circumstances and may be subject to change in the future. UBS does not provide legal or tax advice and makes no representations as to the tax treatment of assets or the investment returns thereon either in general or with reference to specific client's circumstances and needs. Clients should obtain independent tax advice on the suitability of programmes, assets or instruments before investing and as they may consider appropriate. For any further explanations that you may require, please refer to our UBS Dictionary of Banking at www.ubs.com. It is possible that other costs, including taxes, related to the transactions in connection with the financial instrument or the investment service may arise for the client that are not paid via the investment firm or imposed by it.

^{*} If income tax or any other contributions have been withheld temporarily during this transaction, these amounts will be transferred to your employer. Any additional amounts required to be withheld and any reimbursements will be taken into account in the next salary statement. Any further tax deductions, in particular withholding tax on German investment income (Kapitalertraege), will be paid directly to the fiscal authorities by UBS.
